

Meadows

Down:

1. Which pollinating insect loves the wildflowers in a meadow
2. In Ontario, meadows will gain more trees over time and transform into: _____
4. A meadow plant that Monarch butterflies eat when they are caterpillars
5. A common meadow mammal with a fluffy tail and a hop in it's step

Across:

3. This yellow meadow plant has a bad reputation for causing allergies
5. Native meadow plants have deep _____ that help them survive long dry periods
6. This is a scorching hot way that meadows can be regenerated
7. This reptile has no difficulty in getting through the small spaces between plants, looking for food
8. This native wildflower looks like a daisy, but it's common name comes from the Greek word for star
9. A habitat where most of the plants are primarily grasses, wildflowers and other species that aren't trees